3. The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Co.

Brooklynites are passionate about many things and bagels are right on the top of the list. What makes a good bagel? For me a bagel shouldn't be massive – a little bigger than the palm of your hand is perfect. The crust should be flaky and the inside soft and moist, but not overly “doughy.” And possibly the most important thing – they need to be baked fresh daily on site. This seems like a tall order, right?

The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Co. does everything from scratch on site. They use “New York water” in all of their baked goods, and coffee. It's how they are able to recreate a true Brooklyn bagel and they are delicious. On a recent trip, I had an Everything bagel toasted with scrambled eggs, ham and cheese. The ice coffee is pretty impressive, too. (The ice cubes are made of decaf.) It's no surprise that Barbra Streisand chose The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Co. to cater her wrap-up party for the film My Mother's Curse. I'm pretty sure Barbra (also a Brooklynite) knows a thing or two about bagels.

The Original Brooklyn Water Bagel Co. is at 4403 Northlake Blvd., Palm Beach Gardens. Phone: (561) 296-9166. In Delray: 14451 S. Military Trail; (561) 455-7491.
